

British Company Cordell Engineering signed an MOU with Albinali group looking at a Joint Venture in engineering services. The start to a long term relationship. (see overleaf)

“Alderley Industrial”, a Joint Venture between the Al Shoaibi Group of Al Khobar and the Alderley Group in Gloucestershire, announced the start of manufacturing operations in its new base at a prestigious location in Dammam’s First Industrial Estate. Alderley has been active in the Kingdom for some years and has been successful to take major market share in the provision of Custody Measurement Systems for Oil and Gas.

As part of the Saudi British Business Week events, the British Council organised a series of Saudi cultural events: a storytelling afternoon for schoolchildren; an evening where guests met with a local Saudi photographer; had the pleasure of seeing a local mime group; and listened to a local Oud artist.

The British Trade office would like to thank their partners in delivery: Asharqia Chamber of Commerce, Asharqia business ladies, British Council Al Khobar, and Saad Group for their assistance. Special thanks go to this years sponsors: SABB, KPMG, bmi, Ahmed Hamed Al Gosaibi Group, Olayan and Zamil Groups, without whose contribution we would not be able to take forward these initiatives in such a professional way.
