

On Wednesday 8th October Seder village darts team hosted the first in a series of challenge matches against the RGBB. The first of these matches was arranged to celebrate the reopening of their new facility after its recent renovations. It proved to be a perfectly fitting venue for this match that was held in a wonderful friendly atmosphere.

Watched by over 60 people the Seder team led by Captain Terry Carey started their quest for the "RGBB Challenge Cup" in style, going 2-0 up before the RGBB managed to get their side of the scoreboard registering any wins.

Fred Redden and Gavin Batchelor both registered singles victories, but despite their best efforts the experience of the Seder team shone through as they played to an unassailable 6-2 lead at the end of the singles matches.

The real team spirit of the RGBB team started to tell in the double matches however as the pairs of Gary Richardson & Garry Mackender, Phil Pannell & Steve Wilson and Rick Armstrong with Fred Redden all registered victories to give the scoreboard a closer look with the final 7-5 result.

Despite the loss, RGBB captain Gary Richardson said "I was really surprised at the great venue and fantastic hospitality that everyone at Seder village has shown us. I am very proud of the efforts of our players but we were beaten on the night by the better team, Terry and his squad deserve all of our thanks and congratulations for a great night".

Seder captain Terry Carey said "It was our pleasure to host the RGBB and we had a great night, to finish it off by winning this trophy is the icing on the cake for my team and we look forward to the rematch".

Two other events, held at Arabian Homes courtesy of Gary Mackender and Graham Ferguson were also well attended. The Water Volley Ball attracted a good number of participants as well as a large audience but quite why referee Steve Wilson ended up in the pool remains a tightly kept secret.
