

Ian Davidson MP for Glasgow South West visited Saudi Development & Training to experience first hand Vocational Training Programs delivered to young Saudi National Technicians. This, his first visit to the Kingdom was hosted by the British Ambassador included meeting Academics and Trainers across the Kingdom, to understand the needs and demands for Education and Training in the Kingdom.

His last day, hosted by Paul Dugan CEO SDT included a visit to the SDT Training Institute meeting with students who explained their roles and development needs for the future. A visit to the Riyadh Multinational School allowed him to see and understand the diversity of the expatriate population and see first hand how their children are able to school overseas and receive exceptional educational opportunities and challenges.

The day concluded with a visit to the Royal Saudi Air Force Museum where Ian enjoyed the history of the aircraft exhibited many of which had components manufactured by companies from his constituency... be it some time before his being elected!

BRITISH MP VISITS THE KINGDOM

WO Monsoor, Ian Davidson MP, Paul Dugan, Col Al-Baker at the RSAF Museum

Below: Ian Crawford presents William D'Sa with a small token of appreciation at the recent AGM. William joined the British Liason Office in 1982 after already completing 7 years with another sponsor. He's been part of the furniture at the Embassy in Riyadh since it opened in 1985

AND FINALLY

With so much activity this quarter, it has been impossible to find enough space in the magazine to cover every business and social event. Herewith a few shots to remind you of those you attended or might have missed.

Sadly this will be the last magazine before our hard-working secretary leaves the Kingdom. Thank you Denise for keeping that smile going through the thick and thin of the RGBB!
