Help wanted, - must be able to type 70 words a minute, be computer literate and bi-lingual.
An equal opportunity employer.

The dog applied for the position but was quickly rebuffed
"I can't hire a dog for this position" said the office manager.
but the dog pointed to the "An equal opportunity employer" phrase in the ad.

"OK" said the manager "but can you type?"

The dog walked over to the typewriter and flawlessly banged out a 400 word letter in under 4 minutes.

"But can you operate a computer?" enquired the manager
The dog started up the PC and promptly ran through a few program demonstrations.

"Look" said the manager "I still can't employ a dog, the ad says "must be bi-lingual"

The dog looks up at the manager and says "Meow"
