

Where are they now?

Caught on camera... a selection of previous RGBB members on board a craft travelling from Dubai Marina to the Creek via a few famous local landmarks. The get-together was organised earlier this year as former chairman Mick Brown passed through on the way to his 'retirement'. The Shaws who now live in Abu Dhabi (though I believe Martin spends part of his time in Angola) joined the other Dubai residents for the day.

So what was all the fuss about?

It had to happen, the England Football team are no sooner on the plane home and the inbox is swamped with footie jokes. Most of you have probably heard them all by now, or possibly versions we can't print, but just in case... here's few that raised a smile:

Did you hear that David Blaine is gutted that the record he got for doing nothing in a box for 42 days has just been beaten by Wayne Rooney?

Q. Whats the difference between Cinderella and the England football team?

A. Cinderella wanted to get to the ball...

Q. What's the difference between Rob Green's spill and BP's spill?

A. Robert Green has got a cap for his.

"I understand you're a member of the England football team," said FIFA president Joe Blatter. "What position do you play?"

"I'm not sure," answered Terry, "but I think I heard Mr C say that I was the team's main drawback."

Quote "I can't believe we only managed a draw against such an awful team we should easily have beaten ... I'm ashamed to call myself Algerian"

Fabio Capello was wheeling his shopping trolley across the supermarket car park when he noticed an old lady struggling with her bags of shopping. He stopped and asked, "Can you manage dear?" To which the old lady replied, "No way sunshine, you got yourself into this awful mess, don't ask me to sort it out..."

Here's a joke that didn't raise a smile... The combined salaries of the 23 man squad that went to Africa is over 90 million pounds a year!
