

Stephen Taylor and Gary & Amanda Richardson had spent over four hours in the grotto during the afternoon handing out the presents. I suspect they were unwrapped in far less time than it had taken to wrap them! But even Santa and his helpers need to rest sometimes; and after the days' events were over, a small party of 'helpers' gathered to unwind among the abandoned stalls, refreshment tent and grotto.

Mike Donovan and David Gosney provided some excellent music prompting Mr & Mrs HMA to give a jive demonstration worthy of Come Dancing finalists. A few did try to compete, but most were content to sit and enjoy the Fish 'n Chips provided by the Alkhozama team. (wrapped, of course, in last weeks Sunday Times!)
